

ARBOREAL CLIMBING SYSTEM

All you need is a tree, pole, or column to create a fun challenge and a skills-building adventure for climbers of all ages and abilities

The Head Rush Technologies Arboreal Climbing System is built for fun, rugged enough to withstand harsh environments, and gentle on trees. The modular design is simple to install and change, which lets you easily update routes and keep climbers coming back for more.

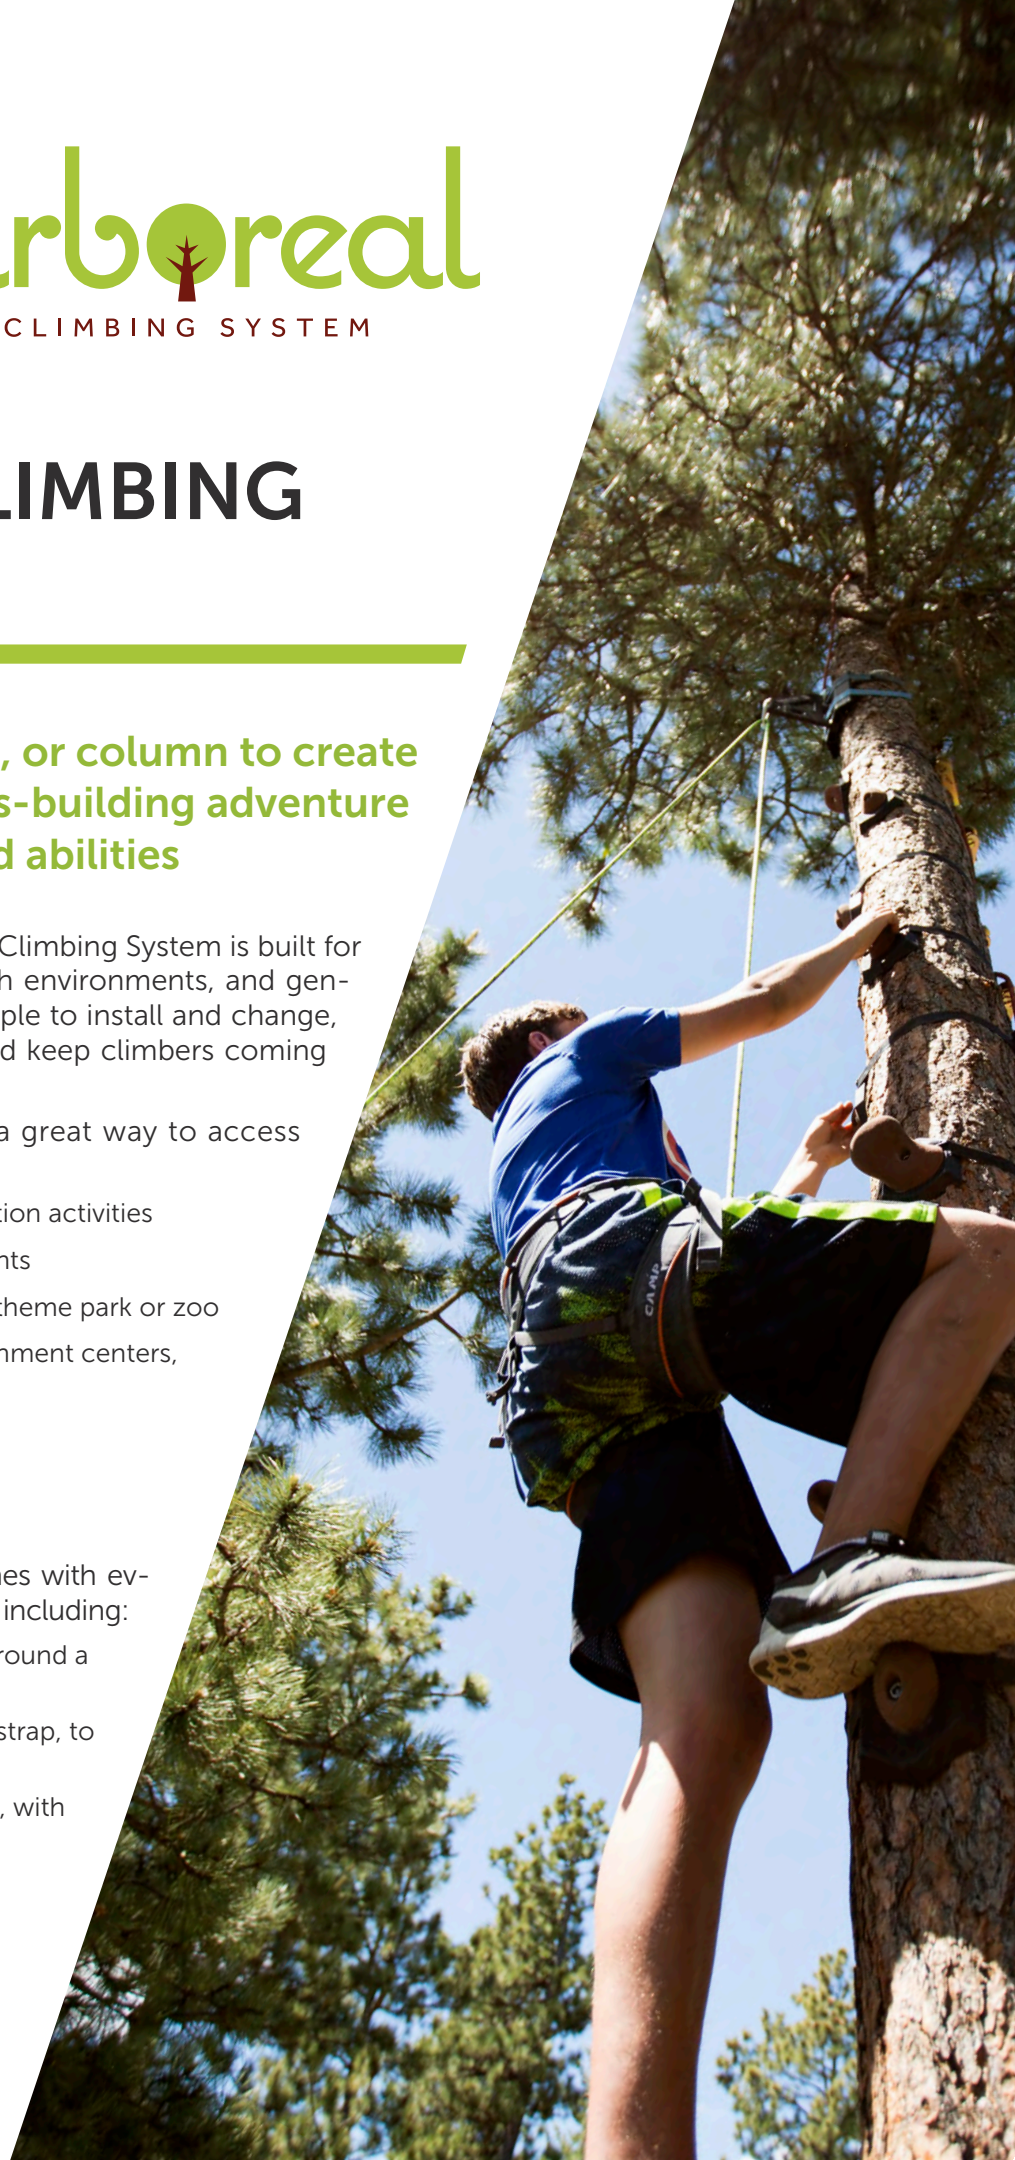

It's a unique adventure attraction or a great way to access activities for:

- Camp challenges and access / transition activities
- Ropes course or aerial course elements
- As an addition to an adventure park, theme park or zoo
- In indoor facilities like family entertainment centers, recreation centers, and more
- Backyard fun

EASY TO SET UP & USE

Each Arboreal Climbing System kit comes with everything you need to reach new heights, including:

- Ratchet straps that securely fasten around a tree, pole, or column
- Base plates that fit anywhere on the strap, to attach a climbing hold
- Holds in over three-hundred designs, with varying colors and shapes

Prepackaged Sets for Easy Ordering

The Arboreal Climbing System is sold in sets to make ordering simple. Each set is based on the height and diameter of the tree and includes base plates, straps and holds. Elements are also sold separately if you want to design a custom climbing adventure.

Sets come in two categories:

- Basic Sets come with one base plate/handhold per ratchet strap
- Performance Sets come with two base plates/handholds per ratchet strap for creating more challenging and variable routes – just one of the things that makes the Arboreal Climbing System superior to other climbing systems.

To order you'll just need to know:

- The approximate height of your tree
- The maximum circumference of your tree (distance around the trunk)

You can set up a system in no time – it's that easy.

If your climbing route is taller than 4.5 meters (15 feet), we recommend fall protection for climbers. Add a Universal Mount from Head Rush to set up a tope rope or to mount a TRUBLUE Auto Belay. Using a TRUBLUE eliminates the need for safety ropes and provides automatic fall protection for participants, providing climbers with a gentle return to the ground.

Basic Set

Performance Set

Turn the Arboreal Climbing System into a complete adventure experience.

By combining the Arboreal Climbing System with other products from Head Rush Technologies it's easy to create a multi-faceted and fun adventure in the trees. Climb up, jump down, or zip away with the Arboreal Climbing System.

Contact your Head Rush Technologies distribution partner or visit headrushtech.com to learn more.

